VICTIM OF AC-CIDENTAL SUICIDE

Oakland, Cal., May 15.—According to the surgeons of the receiving hospital here, George Turner, a teamster, who was accidentally crushed between his wagon and a hitching post, com-mitted accidental suicide while he was on the operating table. Suffering aw-ful agonies from his terrible injuries, Turner, disregarding the surgeons' warning, rolled over in an effort to re-lieve his pain. ROMANCE OF THE MODERN NILE. England Doing More for the Egyptians Than the Pharoahs Did.

phant story of the Assouan dam, says the Travel magazine. Above the dam stand the islands of Philae, which the ancients called the City of Isles, and on them some of the most beautiful, though not the oldest, of the Egyptian temples. Already, owing to the operation of the dam, these temples are flooded far up their walls. When first I visited Egypt, over 20 years ago, I walked about their courts on foot; when I returned recently I sailed them in a boat. The sight was sad to see, but soon it will be worse, for when the dam is raised "Pharoah's bed" and other lovely ruins of Philae must be submerged and with all their sculptures and paintings hidden, and in the end, destroyed.

Thus the romance of the religions of the past is doomed to give way to the romance of the prosperity of the present. Philae must go, but, since bread will always breed an eater, with in a few years' time there will be hundreds of thousands more Egyptlans, most of them hating and agitat ing against the western power that brought them into being. A some what thankless task, perhaps, yet surely herein lies the real romance of the modern Nile, that the care and genius of distant England should do more than all the Pharoahs ever did to utilize its wasted wealth for the benefit of Egypt and her inhabitants.

Secret of the Charming Woman. One must be unconscious of self in order to be considered charming. Following the golden rule entitles a woman to be called charming. She must be good or she cannot be charming not on a long acquaintance. That is, where there is lack of sincerity it is easily discovered, perhaps not in the course of a few visits, but later on.

There is the difference in the true and the false ring of a coin. Think not to deceive. It is impossible. All exert an influence for good or evil upon those they come in contact with Why not let it be the former? It is much the happier way. A pleasant impression never works harm to anyone and lingers in the mind as long as the memory of the person lasts.

To deserve to be called a charming woman one must be charming to women as well as to men, otherwise the charm would be a one-sided thing, so to speak. It is easy to charm a man in many cases, not so easy a woman. Is there a woman so unfortunate as not to be charming to someone?

Not a "Fussy" Mother.

"I am glad you aren't fussy about football like some of the fellows'

"I made up my mind, when, after much consideration, I gave permission for them to play, that I would try never, by word or look, to spoil it,' she said to me once. And she hasn't. She has learned to rejoice in the successes of "our team." to sympathize in its losses, and even to resist the temptation to speak in an "I knew-how-it-would-be" tone when battered shins and other untoward ac cidents result.-Home Chat.

Cars Without Platforms.

Street cars without platforms in the ordinary sense of the word are being operated in Montreal. The means of entrance and exit consist of side open ings somewhat to the rear of the center, while in addition to this there is a small exit at the forward end of the car to the rear of the motormen's box. The passengers enter the car through the central platform and, after deposit ing their fares in the box, move either front or back, the interior of the car being divided by a partition. The rear part of the car is designated for smokers. The doors are operated by the conductor through compressed air mechanism.

Bingham Has Sense of Humor.

Police Commissioner Bingham is a great believer in training and discipline as aids to efficiency. It is his am bition to make the policeman of New York as perfect a model of training as a German infantryman. At the same time he is a martinet who possesses a sense of humor, and one of his favorite stories is about a hospital nurse who was being discussed by two physicians.

"Was she a trained nurse?" asked the first medico. "She must have been," replied the other. "She had not been in the hospital two weeks before she was engaged to our richest patient."

Novel Idea for Getting Pennies. Probably there is no church in Phil-

There have been distributed a number of small envelopes to the various members, the idea being to make a mile of pennies. Each member is requested to put in his or her envelope 16 cents, or a foot of pennies when laid side by side. church is called upon to meet an expense every Christmas for decorations and special music, and in the desire to raise enough money without going into the regular treasury the church officials struck upon this scheme.-Philadelphia Record.

GREAT VIRTUE IN THE ORIENT. Filial Piety Highly Regarded in Japan and China. Filial plety, as is well known, is the special virtue of China and Japan. From it springs loyalty to the emperor, who is regarded as "the father and mother of his people." There are no greater favorites with the Japanese than the "Four and Twenty Paragons of Filial Piety," whose acts of virtue are the subjects of Chinese legend. One of the Paragons had a cruel stepmother who was very fond of fish. Never repining at her cruel treatment of him, he lay down on the frozen surface of a lake. The warmth of his body melted a hole in the ice, at which two carp came up to breathe. These he caught and took home to his stepmother.

Another Paragon, a boy with a most sensitive skin, insisted on sleeping without any covering at night; so that the mosquitoes should fasten on him while his parents slumbered undisturbed.

Another Paragon, who was of the female sex, clung to the jaws of a ti-ger that was about to devour her father until the latter escaped. The drollest of all these stories is that of Rorashi. This Paragon, though 70 years old, used to dress in baby's clothes and crawl about on the floor, his object being to delude his parents, who were over 90 years old, into the idea that they could not be so very old after all, as they had such an ex ceedingly infantile son.-The Sunday
